

How to Share Your LCS Video with Someone Outside of Purdue

There are two options (this is assuming that the individual has not been added to a non-academic course in Blackboard):

1. Download a copy from the Video Express site (to your computer) and share it with someone outside of Purdue using Filelocker (Filelocker.purdue.edu)
  - a. You can upload your video in FileLocker and create a public share option which will provide a shareable link
  - b. This option seems better if you are sharing with one specific person outside of Purdue
  - c. If you want a link that multiple people can click on and view, go to the next option

2. Go to <https://mediaspace.itap.purdue.edu> and log in using your career account
  - a. From the drop down next to your name that appears towards the top right of the page, select My Media
  - b. This will show the same list of videos that you see under My Media in Blackboard but has a few extra options. Find the video you need to share, and click the link for it
  - c. Once it loads, there is a drop down actions menu below the video player, click it and select publish
  - d. When the page refreshes/loads, click the button next to Unlisted and then save
  - e. Now you can go back to the video (still within MediaSpace... The site you're on), click the share button (will look like the one you see in Blackboard), and copy the URL that gets displayed and send it to them
  - f. Once it is Unlisted, anyone with the link to the video will be able to watch it without having to log in
