HISTORY OF PURDUE

The first land grand college in Indiana was built west of Lafayette, and opened its doors on September 16, 1874 as Purdue University. John Purdue pledged $150,000 of his own wealth to secure the site, and donated 100 acres of land to the school. Purdue was also responsible for encouraging prominent local citizens to pledge an additional $50,000. The university was named in Purdue’s honor, and is now the centerpiece for all of Tippecanoe County.

From its stately red-brick campus on the bluffs above the Wabash River, Purdue University not only touches Lafayette and West Lafayette, but also Indiana, the nation, and the world with a vast spectrum of learning, discovery, and engagement.
In order to reserve an apartment, you must bring enough money to pay for a deposit (usually the same amount as one month of rent) and enough money for one month’s rent. You will need extra money for deposits for Electric, Gas, Phone hook-up.
